Frictionless growth for Brazilian industry

Japan's top sales volume of 1.47 million units in the world and its 25th year of sales in Brazil. A strong position by adhering to strict quality standards and high reliability. The company has a presence in 27 countries and 32 plants around the world. The company's growth is reflected in its consistent growth in Brazil, where the number of employees has doubled since 1992. The company is committed to local content and the development of local suppliers and distributors. With the establishment of NIKI Brasil in 2011, the company has established a stronger presence in Brazil. The company's commitment to innovation is evident in its continuous investment in R&D, which has resulted in several patents and awards. The company's strong financial performance is reflected in its net profit margin of 15% and revenue of 14 billion yen. The company's commitment to sustainability is evident in its efforts to reduce its environmental impact through the use of recycled materials and energy-efficient products. The company's strong relationships with its customers and suppliers are evident in its partnerships with leading companies and its commitment to providing excellent customer service. The company's commitment to growth and innovation is evident in its strategic plans to expand its business in Brazil and other regions.

Yakult's Brazilian office was established in 1995 as the first subsidiary of Yakult within South America. The company's strategy in Brazil is focused on enhancing the health and happiness of the Brazilian people through probiotics drinks. The company's products are distributed in 11 countries, including Brazil, and its revenue in Brazil is expected to reach 300 million yen in the near future. The company's commitment to innovation is evident in its ongoing research and development efforts in the probiotic industry. The company's commitment to sustainability is evident in its efforts to reduce its environmental impact through the use of renewable materials and energy-efficient products. The company's strong relationships with its customers and suppliers are evident in its partnerships with leading companies and its commitment to providing excellent customer service. The company's commitment to growth and innovation is evident in its strategic plans to expand its business in Brazil and other regions.
A Japanese search for harmony in Brazil's eucalyptus forests

Brazilian heritage and promising future in manufacturing

Dedication to innovation and progress

Brazilian Japanese paper company on a mission to grow sales

Precision component of a world-class Brazil
The gourmet zest in country’s resurgent economy

Brazil is at the threshold of a new era. Constitutional amendments have converted the Senate into a body with the same moral authority as the Chamber of Deputies. This is a turning point that has never before been seen in Brazil’s history. The country has passed a constitutive amendment that guarantees the right to work, the right to education and the right to health. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them. The country has also passed a constitutional amendment that guarantees the right to health, the right to education and the right to work. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them.

The gourmet zest in country’s resurgent economy

Brazil is at the threshold of a new era. Constitutional amendments have converted the Senate into a body with the same moral authority as the Chamber of Deputies. This is a turning point that has never before been seen in Brazil’s history. The country has passed a constitutive amendment that guarantees the right to work, the right to education and the right to health. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them.

Brazil is at the threshold of a new era. Constitutional amendments have converted the Senate into a body with the same moral authority as the Chamber of Deputies. This is a turning point that has never before been seen in Brazil’s history. The country has passed a constitutive amendment that guarantees the right to work, the right to education and the right to health. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them.

Brazil is at the threshold of a new era. Constitutional amendments have converted the Senate into a body with the same moral authority as the Chamber of Deputies. This is a turning point that has never before been seen in Brazil’s history. The country has passed a constitutive amendment that guarantees the right to work, the right to education and the right to health. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them.

Brazil is at the threshold of a new era. Constitutional amendments have converted the Senate into a body with the same moral authority as the Chamber of Deputies. This is a turning point that has never before been seen in Brazil’s history. The country has passed a constitutive amendment that guarantees the right to work, the right to education and the right to health. The Brazilian people have never had so many rights before, and we are now in the process of implementing them.