A PARTNER OF JAPAN
FOR MORE THAN A CENTURY

Ever since in democratic transformation more than 25 years ago, Chile has made huge strides toward improving its political organization and its economic reforms.

The government has been quite able to achieve its goals. Its recent economic reforms have made the country more open to foreign capital and have permitted the development of a strong private sector.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic reforms, and we have built a very strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to Japan because Japan is a very important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and we have built a very strong partnership with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partner-
ship with Japan.

We are now facing new chal-
gen
ges, and the way to meet them is
to strengthen our partnership with
Japan.

We have been very close to Japan
during this period of economic
reforms, and we have built a very
strong partnership.

In the past, the Chilean government had signed many economic
and political agreements with
Japan, which made us the prefer-
ent partner of the Chilean government.

Today, we are still very close to
Japan because Japan is a very
important partner for Chile.

In the last few years, the relationship has been very strong, and
we have built a very strong partnership with Japan.