ECUADOR'S FIRST MOVIER IN FROZEN BROCCOLI

TROPICAL FRUIT EXPORT: CONNECTIONS THROUGH QUALITY

Ecuador's first-ever movie venture is headed by Fernando Sempertegui. Founded in 1996, the company exported for the first time high-quality frozen vegetables to Japan. Sempertegui’s company, called Frucoz, is named after the owner’s daughter and is part of a large industrial complex of more than 500 workers. The company is headquartered in Santa Prisca, a country known for its very strict quality and safety standards.

The company’s main product is frozen broccoli, which it sends to Japan through regular flights. The product is flown to Japan every week, and its seasonality is strongly tied to the broccoli harvest season in Ecuador.

COFINA: BEYOND CHOCOLATE

COFINA is a company established in 1993, is based in Duran, and it is committed to producing high-quality cacao, which is processed into chocolate. The company’s main products include chocolate bars, confectionery, and cocoa beans. COFINA is one of the largest suppliers of cacao to Japan.

COFINA has several partnerships with Japanese companies, including a joint venture with a Japanese chocolate manufacturer. COFINA has also developed innovative chocolate products, such as chocolate with Japanese green tea and chocolate with Japanese sake.

COFINA’s founder and CEO, Julio Zambrano, is a former businessman who has worked in the cacao industry for many years. He has a strong passion for quality and has implemented rigorous quality control systems to ensure that COFINA’s products meet the highest standards.

The company exports its products to Japan through regular airfreight flights. COFINA has also developed a social responsibility program, which includes providing education and support to cacao farmers in Ecuador.

UCE BRIDGES THE GAP TO JAPAN THROUGH SCIENCE

The University Central of Ecuador (UCE) has established a strong relationship with Japan, which has leveraged its expertise in science and technology to develop new capabilities and partnerships.

UCE’S TIES TO JAPAN DO NOT END THERE. TO COMMEMORATE THE VISIT OF THE JAPANESE CO-COUNTRY OF WILLIAM J. ADAMS IN 1854, KUSHIMA KAGAKU KABUSHIKI KAISHA AND UCE CONTINUE TO COLLABORATE ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF NEW TECHNOLOGIES.
