The Netherlands and Japan: Moving forward together

Office Unikk Plus: Supporting Japanese companies in Europe

The favorable business climate, strategic location, and well-developed infrastructure make it one of the top business destinations for Japanese companies in Europe. Aiming to help Japanese companies successfully establish their businesses in the Netherlands and other parts of Europe, Amsterdam- based Office Unikk Plus provides high-quality relocation and administrative support services.

"Being attentive, responsible, and proactive is of utmost importance to ensure that our clients’ needs are met efficiently and effectively," explained Office Unikk Plus founder Kuniko Morii. Offering a wide range of services, Office Unikk Plus can help with every aspect of the relocation process, from finding housing and arranging visas to setting up a bank account and finding a school for clients’ children. Their administrative support services include translation and interpretation, human resource management, and financial administration in close liaison with local partners.

“Our team consists of experienced professionals that are fluent in Japanese and English, and they have a deep understanding of both Japanese and European business cultures and practices.
